

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, our nation has a proud history of its local governments providing meaningful services on behalf of the American people, and millions of Floridians depend on local government services every day; and

WHEREAS, the Florida Local Government Coalition (FLGC) encourages Florida's associations to promote local government services, and proclaims a Local Works Day on September 6, 2013, in celebration of its member associations and the essential roles they play; and

WHEREAS, Local Works Day is a day to bring attention to the hard work that local government employees do for millions of Floridians each day. It's about the public works that are easy to take for granted, but which knit our communities together; and

WHEREAS, local governments disseminate important information to their citizens and work with them to make better decisions at the local level and to create a strong sense of community; and

WHEREAS, law enforcement, first responders, public parks, running water, electricity, roads and bridges...*they're part of ordinary life...*and that's extraordinary! We are fortunate to live in a place where things just...work. It's not like that everywhere in the world, but in Florida and Ormond Beach, we enjoy a quality of life like no other; and

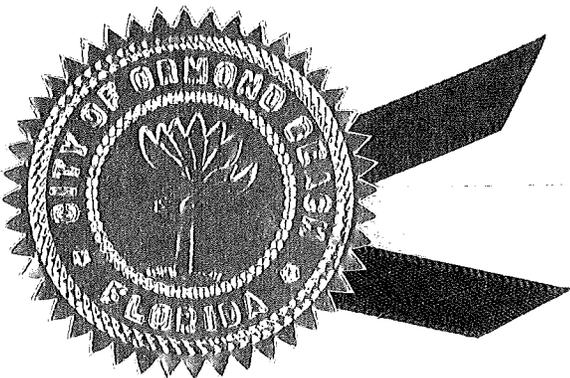

WHEREAS, the City of Ormond Beach celebrates its employees on Local Works Day for the valuable services they provide to our city;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Ed Kelley, Mayor of the City of Ormond Beach, Florida, do hereby proclaim September 6, 2013, as in the City of Ormond Beach and urge all citizens to support efforts of the Florida Local Government Coalition in bringing attention to the hard work that local government employees do every day.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I hereunto set my hand and cause the seal of the City of Ormond Beach, to be affixed this 20th day of August in the year of our Lord, Two Thousand Thirteen.

Ed Kelley
