

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, over the past two decades, our Nation has made strides in the fight against breast cancer. While we still do not know the exact causes, we do know that some women are at an increased risk of developing this disease, including those who have a personal or family history; and

WHEREAS, when breast cancer is caught early, treatments work best and survival rates increase. That is why all women and men should be familiar with the risk factors and symptoms of this disease; and

WHEREAS, we salute the women and men who dedicate themselves to the prevention, detection, and treatment of breast cancer; we show our support to every individual and every family struggling with this disease, and we pause to remember those we have lost (President Barack Obama, Presidential Proclamation-National Breast Cancer Awareness Month 2013, 2014); and

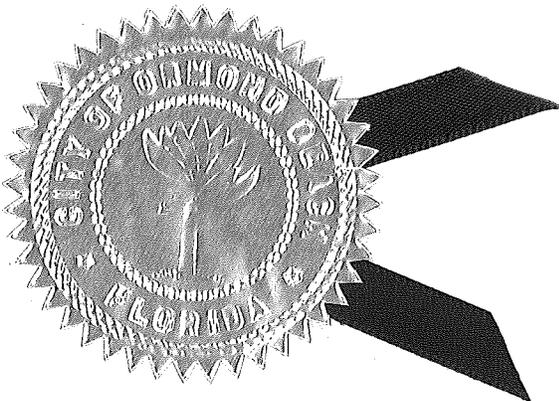

WHEREAS, in observance of Breast Cancer Awareness Month, the City of Ormond Beach encourages all employees to wear pink every Friday during the month of October;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Ed Kelley, Mayor of the City of Ormond Beach, Florida, do hereby proclaim October 17, 2014, as in the City of Ormond Beach and urge all residents to join with me to increase breast cancer awareness in our community.
