

Ormond Beach's Andy Romano Beachfront Park Community Desires Questionnaire

Community Meetings #1 & #2 – May 10 & 11, 2011

The first 3 steps of the design process - discover, imagine and choose – are about engaging the community in the design of the park. Your input is important and will help ensure that the park becomes a new special place in Ormond Beach.

Project Mission Statement

“To create a public beachfront park with beach access and ample off-beach parking to maximize access and enjoyment to all that will provide ocean views and restoration of natural dunes. The park will become a special place in the City, leaving a lasting impression, and will further define Ormond Beach as an exceptional place to live, work and play.”

Indicate if you have ideas for evaluation criteria to be used to evaluate concepts that the team will present to the Community on July 12?

The project team will summarize input received from community meetings on May 10 and May 11, the website and this questionnaire, and will develop concepts that fulfill the community's desires for the park.

Input from the community will have a strong influence on the various concepts for the park design. These concepts will be brought to the Community to obtain feedback on July 12.

Other factors that will influence the design of the park include things like: on-going cost and the ability to maintain the park in a high-quality manner. As a member of this community, besides community input, what do you think are the most important evaluation measures for selecting the best concept for our park?
