

Summary of September 15, 2011
Community Open House
Ormond Beach's Andy Romano Beachfront Park Unveiling

A number of citizens stopped by the Casements to view the unveiling of the chosen concept for Ormond Beach's Andy Romano Beachfront Park. Many faces were familiar while some were new to the project. Questions were asked and answered about materials, schedule, maintenance costs, and location.

A few expressed concern about specific issues, such as safe crossing of SR A1A, overcrowding of the beach, the need for a traffic signal, or that the design should be simpler.

However, most of the comments were positive and the feeling was enthusiastic. One citizen summed it up best, "Everyone won't get everything they wanted, but this will be a great asset to the community as a whole."

Design and permitting of the preferred concept (shown below) for the park are underway and construction is anticipated to begin in the spring, with the park opening for the Community to experience in early 2013.

Preferred Concept Plan

