 - Many remote sites without power, working with users once power is restored to bring the sites back online.
 - The ATT datalink to the Volusia County Sherriff Office (VCSO) went down Tuesday after the storm. ATT finally resolved the issue Saturday early afternoon. On Wednesday, City IT staff worked with VCSO IT staff to create a temporary work around so that the officers had connectivity with the Mobile Data Terminals (MDTs) to the dispatch and records services provided by VCSO.
 - Long-term power outage at the Leeway water tank facility that is used as a bridge point for the wireless point2point connection to Fire Station 94 on Airport Road. Needed to do several battery swaps to keep the connection up. A more permanent solution is being developed.
